

We like the sound of that

We continuously improve our tools to make sure that sound does not turn into harmful noise.

Only good vibrations

Powerful grinding with minimum vibrations make sure a hard days work is no longer too hard.

More power than ever

With twice the power and half the time to do the job, our tools take a huge load of your operators.

Light as a power tool

Presenting powerful tools with minimum weight takes good ergonomic care of your operators.

Collecting dust is a good thing

A clean and dust-free station allows your operators to take a deep breath and get the job done.

The holistic approach

With the Atlas Copco holistic approach to sustainable productivity, we provide tools that are efficient and safe - taking care of your business as well as your operators.

We call it No Bad Vibes
